

PLANNING BRIEF

Procurement cycle-time review brief

Status: INDICATIVE. This is original general working material. It contains no verified client data, market benchmark, survey result, design approval, or professional advice.

How to use this resource

- This is an internal process-mapping aid, not a benchmark of item categories or leading-team performance.
- Map each project gate from requisition to order, including owner, evidence requirement, return loop, and elapsed days.
- Review bottlenecks only after the definitions and timestamps are consistent across the process.
